JUNE 8TH

The Rainbow

Happy June! Did you know, on average June is the wettest month in Minnesota with an average of 4.06 inches of rain! And with those rainstorms, we hope to see some rainbows! We see a rainbow after it rains, of course, but the best time is around sunset or sunrise because of the angle of the sun.

What a majestic part of nature—the beautiful colors always in the same displayed order, almost like God’s smile reaching down to the earth!

A rainbow signifies joy that the rain is past, the sun is shining, and tomorrow will be a good day. I never did find the ‘pot of gold’ at the end of the rainbow, but the rainbow holds deeper meaning.

The first reported rainbow sighting occurred in the account of Noah and his family in Genesis, Chapters 6-9. They had just survived the longest and most intense rainstorm and flooding ever recorded. Can you imagine coming out of the ark after one long year? And they ‘lived to tell about it!’ Can you imagine every time Noah heard the thunder and saw the lightning, he froze fearing they would experience the flood again?

Scripture indicates God sent the rainbow as a seal of His promise that He would never again flood the earth. Today we understand the rainbow in a natural way as the effects of light shining on water droplets. The light is refracted, or bent into a bow shape, and separates into the beautiful colors.

The rainbow reminds us of God’s beautiful grace. In the midst of storms, God shelters His followers. Even though we humans fail, He provides a way through if we will grasp His provided lifeline. In the storms of life, we can run to His place of safety through prayer.

Remember: God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in trouble (Psalm 46:1).

And if you wonder about the flood, read Jesus’ words in Matthew 24:36-39. He validated Noah and the flood.

Summer Solstice at Stonehenge

The Summer Solstice, the longest day of the year, is celebrated in June in the UK. At Stonehenge, crowds gather to watch the sunrise at one of England's most mysterious monuments. How did ancient people move 40-ton stones over many miles before the development of wheels? How did they erect them upright in well-engineered stone circles? Are human remains buried there or in the barrows that pepper the surrounding landscape? Are there magic energy lines under the earth?

MY SYMPHONY

William Henry Channing

To live content with small means;
to seek elegance rather than luxury,
and refinement rather than fashion,
to be worthy, not respectable,
and wealthy, not rich;
to study hard, think quietly,
talk gently, act frankly,
to listen to stars and birds,
to babes and sages,
with open heart,
to bear all cheerfully,
to all bravely await occasions, hurry never.
In a word, to let the spiritual unbidden
and unconscious grow up through the common.
This is to be my symphony.

GROWING OLD

Kristone

Lord, Thou knowest I am growing older.

Keep me from becoming talkative and possessed with the idea that I must express myself on every subject.

Release me from the craving to straighten out everyone's affairs.

Keep me from the recital of endless detail. Give me wings to get to the point.

Seal my lips when I am inclined to tell of my aches and pains. They are increasing with the years and my love to speak of them grows sweeter as time goes by.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be wrong. Make me thoughtful but not nosey; helpful but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom and experience it does seem a pity not to use it all. But Thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

Laughing Matters

The Engagement

A young woman brings her fiancé to dinner with her parents. After dinner, her mother tells her father to find out about the young man. The father invites the young man to his study for a drink.

“So, what are your plans?” the father asks the young man. “I am a religious scholar,” he replies.

“A religious scholar. Hmm,” the father says. “Admirable, but what will you do to provide a nice house for my daughter to live in as she’s accustomed to?”

“I will study,” the young man replies. “And God will provide for us.”

“And how will you buy her a beautiful engagement ring such as she deserves?” asks the father.

“I will concentrate on my studies,” the young man replies. “And God will provide for us.”

“And children?” asks the father. “How will you support children?”

“Don’t worry, sir, God will provide,” replies the fiancée.

The conversation proceeds like this, and each time the father questions, the young idealist insists that God will provide.

Later, the mother asks: “How did it go, honey?”

The father answers: “He has no job and no plans, but the good news is he thinks I’m God.”

One-Liners

My teacher accused me of plagiarism. His words, not mine.

I find apologizing for not having cleaned is easier than cleaning.

Keep your eyes wide open before marriage and half shut afterwards.
